Nurture Dogs

We are a small Community Interest Company who bring the therapeutic value of the human animal bond to as many people as possible. We combine animal contact and activities with the therapeutic philosophy of Occupational Therapy. We work in secondary schools, specialist hospitals, Learning Disabilities homes and in the community.

As an extension of this work, we are opening Dedham Therapy and Work Experience Farm on the site of the Old Rare Breeds Centre behind the car park. Offering therapy sessions and work experience to those with disabilities and work placements to students that are hard to place due to disability.

We invite the local community to get involved and come and see what we are doing. Contact Gill on ☎ 864 792 or 07933 117982. Or email hello@nurture-dogs.co.uk or visit: www.nurture-dogs.co.uk

SONGS OF PRAISE

'In sweet music is such art'

THE ST ANNE PRELUDE AND FUGUE - BY J.S. BACH

J.S. Bach

On 26 July we celebrate the feast of Anne and Joachim, who are named as the parents of Mary in the proto-gospel of James. We might find it easy to dismiss the story as a nice legend, but it is in our calendar to remind us how God is always working to bring grace and redemption into the lives of his people, and how he is faithful in keeping covenant with them through all generations. There was a church dedicated to St Anne in Constantinople by the 6th century, and her cult spread throughout Europe in the Middle Ages.

In the 18th century William Croft became the organist of St Anne's Church in Soho, and composed a hymn tune bearing her name which we know as the melody for O God, our help in ages past. In 1750 another great organist at St Thomas' Church in Leipzig composed a Prelude and Fugue in E flat major. The fugue subject resembled that tune, and it has borne the name of the St Anne Prelude and Fugue ever since. The composer of that glorious work was Johann Sebastian Bach, and it is a testimony to both his skill as an organist and his brilliance as a composer.

Albert Schweitzer, pondering this music, saw in it a symbol of the Trinity for the theme recurs in three connected fugues, each with a different personality. The first, he said, is calm and majestic, with a uniform movement throughout. That is the Father. In the second the theme is disguised and not easily recognised, suggesting God taking human flesh in the Son. In the third, the theme is transformed into cascades of notes like the Pentecostal wind of the Holy Spirit roaring from heaven.

Bach in his Little Organ Book dedicated the pieces there 'To the glory of the most high God alone, and for my neighbour to learn from.' As we listen to the St Anne Prelude and Fugue, we can sense the truth of those words, but also the truth of St Paul's words in the letter to the Romans, one of the readings for the feast of St Anne and St Joachim: 'We know that all things work together for good for those who love God.' And we can think of God's Spirit working in the life of not just Bach, but all those who turn to him in faith and trust - sons and daughters of the most high God.

JOSEPH'S WONDERFUL COAT

Joseph was 17, he took care of the sheep and goats with his brothers. His father Jacob loved Joseph more than his other sons because he had been born to him when he was old. He made a long robe for Joseph, a coat of many colours. When Joseph's brothers saw that their father loved Joseph more than he loved them, they hated their brother so much they would not speak to him and even plotted to kill him.

MORE OR LESS?

A teacher stood before his class with some items in front of him. He picked up a large empty jar and began to fill it with some rocks. He asked the class if the jar was full. They all agreed that it was.

Next, the teacher picked up a box of small pebbles and poured them into the jar. He shook the jar lightly. The pebbles, of course, rolled into the open areas between the rocks. He then asked the students again if the jar was full. They agreed it was.

Then the teacher picked up a box of sand and poured it into the jar, and again he shook the jar lightly. The sand filled up all the small spaces. He then asked once more if the jar was full. The students responded with a 'Yes!'

Finally, the teacher produced a bottle of red wine from under the table and proceeded to pour its contents into the jar - effectively filling the empty space between the sand. The students laughed!

'Now', said the teacher, 'This jar represents your life. The rocks are for the really important things - your faith, your spouse, your family, your health - things that, if everything else was lost and only they remained, then your life would still be full enough. The pebbles are the other things that matter, like your job, your home and the daily necessities. The sand is everything else.'

'If you put the sand into the jar first', he said, 'there will be no room for the important things—the pebbles and rocks. The same goes for your life. If you spend all your time and energy on the small things, you will never have room for those which are important. Pay good attention to the rocks, that are critical for well-being. Take time for God and let your faith grow. Show love to others. Play with your children or, if you have none, support a school or youth club. Take time to look after your health. There will always be time for other, less important, things. Set your priorities. The rest is just sand.'

A student inquired what the wine represented. The teacher smiled. 'I'm glad you asked. It just goes to show you that no matter how full your life may seem, some good wine will add colour — it stands for joy!'

WHAT A FESTIVAL!

Dedham's first Midsummer Music Festival (well, the first in living memory) in June was a knockout success. Blessed by local talent, organisational verve and good weather, more than 300 people enjoyed a coming together of the community and put the 'fun' into fundraising. Over £1,700 was raised for Church funds (and will be used to pay for heating bills so that the building can continue to be used throughout the colder months (like July!)) Thank you to everyone who took part and supported this wonderful event.

FIRST RESPONDERS

One of the difficulties facing the First Responders of Stratford St Mary is finding houses that have names rather than numbers. Quite often the name is obscured by hedge or overgrowth, or it is not well lit. If an emergency call comes through at night, it can delay the responder finding the right house.

To help them find you following an emergency call, we suggest you put on your car's hazard lights or leave lights switched on and signs well lit. This will greatly assist the Responders and ambulance in finding the right property.

HOW TO HANDLE SUMMER WASPS

Wasps can be a real nuisance in the summer months, especially if you have young children. It is estimated that there are as many as 1000 wasp nests per square mile, and a lone wasp will often bring back its colleagues from the nest when it finds a source of food.

As well as being sometimes aggressive, wasps can spread disease in the same way as flies, by picking up bacteria from fecal matter and then landing on food and transporting it.

Despite this, it is important to remember that wasps are a vital part of your garden's natural balance and eco system, but there are things you can do to encourage wasps to go elsewhere:

- Ensure bins have tight-fitting lids and keep them closed
- Keep food and drinks covered
- Pack away unfinished foods
- Clear fallen fruit from garden
- Consult a professional pest controlled about a nest or using wasp traps

And resist the urge to kill wasps as they let off an alarm pheromone which will make other wasps more aggressive.

DEDHAM YOUTH CLUB BANK HOLIDAY EVENT

Dedham Youth Club are working hard to organise their Bank Holiday Event on Monday 26 August, from 10.30am till 3.30pm.

There will be food and attractions for all ages and abilities, including stalls, a bouncy village from Kyra's Castles, freshly prepared food, a BBQ, ice cream, soft drinks and music.

There will be agility dogs performing, sponsored by Barn Veterinary Practice, tug-of-war, fancy dress competition, Zorb ball and donkey rides. We are also encouraging young people with musical talent to perform on the day, so get in touch!

We are still seeking sponsorship and donations of raffle prizes from local businesses.

For stalls or sponsorships, please contact Youth Leader Hayley on: hayleyaherne@hotmail.co.uk or ☎ 01473 328 695.

MISSION CAKE STALL

The July cake stall in Dedham Parish Church porch will run from 9am to 11am on 27 July.

If you would like to help staff a stall, or make cakes, biscuits, jams or preserves, contact Ruth Higginson on ☎ 322 598.

NEWSROUND

Sheila Beeton writes:

CHARGES TO CAR PARKING

At its June meeting, Dedham Parish Council (DPC) received proposals from Colchester Borough Council (CBC) to introduce car parking charges in the two village car parks owned by CBC – the Mill Lane and Duck Pond car parks. The charges are proposed to come into effect this summer.

A Draft Parking Strategy was presented to DPC setting out the reasons for the charges, including a number of implementation targets and a pricing policy strategy. There are no proposals at this stage to change parking arrangements in the High Street, or in Royal Square.

The Parish Council will be consulted about some of the details of implementing this strategy, but it has been made clear that the principle itself of paid parking in these two car parks is not for negotiation.

CBC has made clear that one of the main reasons for the strategy is financial, and has proposed that Dedham should also benefit from this arrangement, despite the fact that we do not own these two car parks. It is proposed that after having deducted the costs of implementation and management/maintenance of the scheme, DPC should be able to share in a percentage of profits generated.

To ensure that everyone in the village is fully aware of these proposals and has the opportunity to communicate any views to both DPC and CBC this strategy will be discussed in full at the next DPC meeting on 8 July, when the public can raise any issues with us. CBC will not attend this meeting, but will attend an Extraordinary Meeting of the Parish Council, which is open to the public and to be held on Monday 22 July.

In the interim, the Draft Parking Strategy and an Executive Summary will be placed on the DPC website, or by emailing clerk@dedhamparishcouncil.org.uk.

NEXT MEETING

This will be at 7.30 pm, Monday 8 July, in Duchy Barn.

The Extraordinary Meeting will be at 7.30pm, on Monday 22 July, in the Assembly Rooms.
