DEDHAM WEA

The new term for the Dedham WEA will be starting on Wednesday 3 October. The lecture is entitled Centuries of Soundbites – and the lecturer will be Catherine Dell. Since ancient times, powerful orators have helped shape our world.

This course examines the why and how of some great speeches and, in doing so, explores the development of oratory. If you would like more information about the course please contact Ruth Higginson ☎ 322 598.

RUNNING THE RACE

Not being particularly 'sporty' when young, I looked elsewhere for my heroes. However there were two sportsmen whose courage and dedication made their mark on me when I was at school, and for quite different reasons. One was marathon runner called Jim Peters. My mother had collected his autograph on a ticket in the early 1950s, and it was one of the few autographs of 'famous' people I had in my album. Years later I went to the same school as Peters. Later still he was my first optician!

The story of his courage at the Empire Games in Vancouver has been told like this: It was in the 1954 that Jim Peters, about three miles ahead of his closest competition, entered the stadium and collapsed just inside the gate. He staggered to his feet and stumbled on, taking 15 minutes to progress another 200 yards. He fell several more times before crossing the finish line – but it was the wrong finish line, the one used for other track events, not the one for the marathon, which was some distance farther on. The team masseur, acting on the instructions of the team manager, caught him as he fell yet again and led him off the track. Not having crossed the correct finish line, Peters was disqualified. Minutes earlier, the same crowd had watched Roger Bannister beat John Landy, both breaking the four-minute mile barrier for the first time in what became known as the "Miracle Mile." Bannister was also one of the six doctors who attended to Peters after his collapse.'

This famous photograph is of Peters just as he is about to collapse. Apart from the photographer, only one man appears to have noticed the drama which was unfolding. In wide-mouthed horror he waves his hat in alarm, for he could see that Peters had pushed himself beyond endurance to so very nearly, but not quite, claim another world record. Such very great courage for what is, after all, a passing prize.

My second sporting hero was also a runner (though not a sport I ever enjoyed doing). I had read a biography of Eric Liddell in a boys' comic long before the film Chariots of Fire (now re-released in cinemas) had brought Liddell's story to a wider audience. As a committed Christian, Eric had refused to race on a Sunday at the 1924 Olympics in Paris and was forced to withdraw from the 100 metres, his best event. Instead, he raced in the 400 metres and little was expected of him. As Liddell went to the starting blocks, an American slipped a piece of paper in his hand with a quotation from I Samuel 2:30, "Those who honour me I will honour." Liddell ran with that piece of paper in his hand. He not only won the race but broke the existing world record with a time of 47.6 seconds.

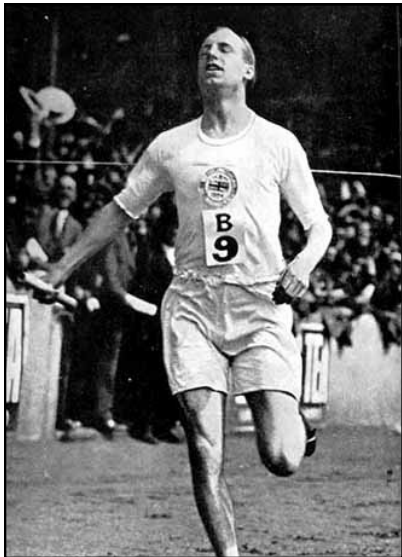

Liddell achieved a greater prize than even Olympic Gold later on in his life, a story which was not told in the film. After the Olympics, he returned to China to work as a missionary, where he worked as a teacher at a school for Chinese boys at which he taught chemistry and sports. The Japanese invaded China and in 1940 Liddell told his wife to take their children to Canada where she could live with her parents. He stayed behind in Tientsin to continue his work.

Liddell was sent by the Japanese to an internment camp, where he worked tirelessly, doing whatever needed to be done, whether it was teaching children who were trying to keep up their studies, Bible study, or organising sports. His freedom was arranged by Winston Churchill, as part of a prisoner exchange, but Liddell gave up his place to let a pregnant woman leave in his place. In February 1945 he began coughing uncontrollably. As friends came to his aid, he lay back and uttered the words "It is surrender". It was later found that Liddell had died of a brain tumour. He had had the opportunity to leave China but had chosen to stay, pouring his life into the work of reaching the lost for Christ. In so doing he showed the same great courage that he had shown in athletics - as later did Peters - but for a prize far greater than gold, even Olympic gold.

DEDHAM CHURCHYARD

Please be aware that, as part of the periodic maintenance of our church burial grounds, a general schedule of clearing has (or will) include the removal of the following from graves:

- all memorials and shrubbery placed without permission
- all flower containers or tributes that are not made of stone; including those made of plastic, glass, china, porcelain, terracotta or cloth material
- all wire, nylon or plastic netting
- all artificial flowers
- grave borders of wood or metal
- and, after a year, all earth mounds or extensions beyond the footprint of an authorised memorial.

Small tokens placed at the foot of a memorial stone may be left for a short while (for example, to mark special anniversaries) but these are not allowed to be placed permanently, so in due course they may be removed without further notice.

Whereas some leeway is given to the recently bereaved, after a year all votives, memorials and floral tributes must be within Diocesan regulations, a copy of may be obtained from the Parish Office, or at:

www.chelmsford.anglican.org/chelmsford-file-memorials-in-churchyards.html

This work is done for the overall appearance of our much-loved country churchyard, as well as for the safety of those who have to maintain it and to visit it. If you have any cause for concern about a particular grave, please speak with the Vicar.

CROWNING SUCCESSES

With the songs of the KS2 Summer Production still ringing in our ears (Queen songs, so you can understand why!), in this final week of term we have had our KS1 and KS2 Speech and Prize events and it has been wonderful to celebrate the very many talents and achievements of the children here at Dedham Primary. Congratulations to Year 5 who recently came Second in a UK-wide 'Mathletics' competition and who then received their award at the House of Lords.

Congratulations also to Libby Parker for winning the Tendring Show 'programme front cover' competition. Her programme front cover design was reproduced 15,000 times, so you may well have seen it! Also, in a nationwide competition to 'Cook for the Queen' our Year 6 children reached the last sixteen with their canapé designs based on six nursery rhymes about Kings and Queens. These achievements are certainly the 'crowning successes' in what has been another hugely successful academic year.

On behalf of all the Governors and staff at Dedham CE Primary School we wish all our School leavers every success and happiness in their new schools. We also wish midday assistant Mrs Sam Doyle all the very best in her retirement.

MOVING ON

Many thanks to everyone who supported the Disco Divas evening and the car boot sale. The £600 raised has gone towards the annual Smartys outing – this year to Easton Farm Park - and a party for the children leaving for 'big school'. It was all things Jubilee at Smartys before the half term break. Since then the children have focused on the Olympics, learning about other countries, making their own Olympic torches and enjoying a thankfully sunny sports day. It is always sad when children move on but it is also time to celebrate a very successful year at Smartys, thanks to the hard work of staff and committee. Places are available for children aged from 2½ to join Smartys in September. For further information contact Tina on ☎323 412, or visit our website www.smartys.org.uk

YOUR WILL - A LASTING GIFT

Dedham Parish Church has received substantial benefits during the past three years from both large and smaller legacies from former members and friends of the Church. The Church accounts, which are made public, demonstrate that the annual income derived from both regular and casual giving, inclusive of any available tax benefits, fall well below carefully budgeted costs. Additional giving from current income is difficult in these days of austerity. However a decision now to bequeath the Church a portion of your estate, whatever the amount, will assist in ongoing work of the Church.

Crown Law is a local firm of solicitors who will support current church members and Friends of Dedham Church to include a legacy to Dedham Parish Church by making it easy, and at an economic cost, to either amend your current will or create a new one. If you wish to amend your will to include a gift to the Church then Crown Law can prepare a codicil to the will at a cost of £20 plus VAT.

Alternatively, if you need to prepare a new will, Crown Law can prepare a simple will at a cost of £40 plus VAT, or for couples who make mirror wills, £65 plus VAT. If your will is more complex, then Crown Law will provide you with a competitive quote for any additional work.

* This offer is open for the first 50 clients and is available for a limited period only. ****

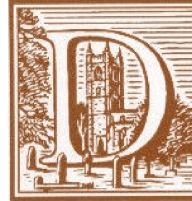

Crown Law is conveniently situated in Langham with parking available. Home visits by a solicitor can be arranged if you live within the environs of Dedham and find it difficult to travel. To ensure complete confidentiality contact Crown Law direct:

AIR AMBULANCE

Despite the weather and the Women's final at Wimbledon, with the sale of coffee and biscuits, tea and homemade cakes, and a street collection, Dedham raised £698. The EAA stall and their collection tin brought the overall total to nearly £841 - a 5% increase on last year. We are very grateful to Maison Talbooth, The Essex Rose, Pandora's Box, The Garden Cafe, Dedham Craft Centre Tea Rooms and the Dedham Cup Cake Company for their support. Thank you to everyone who made this result possible.

EAST BERHOLT SURGERY

I am delighted to announce that Constable Country Medical Practice has been chosen to become a teaching practice for the Norwich Medical School faculty of the University of East Anglia, and for Cambridge University. This is a huge honour for the practice and a wonderful opportunity for all of us: doctors, nurses, admin staff and, of course, you the patients, to be involved

From September 2012, a group of up to ten fourth year UEA medical students will attend the practice each Monday to carry out a number of learning tasks. Cambridge students will typically be with the practice for two week blocks. The main part of their education will involve seeing patients and with that in mind we will, in due course, be seeking volunteers with various medical conditions to provide them with that experience.

Dr Joshua Arkley will be joining the practice in August. He is a recently qualified GP who is local to the area. He will replace Dr Aref who left the practice in June, though he has continued to work for the practice on a locum basis until the arrival of Dr Arkley. We also say goodbye to Nurse Sandra Allen has decided to leave the Practice after eleven years.
